GLOOM, March 18.—After shooting two policemen, a negro is barricaded in a house here early today and for two hours has fought off police reserves from three districts.

Ebert made regarding his wife, who is a member of the American Legion, in the situation caused by Adm. George H. Odier, the American minister, and has not been available during the battle came after two negroes had engaged in a fight in the theater district.

Rifles were used after one escaped and the police battled with him for two hours. He was cornered in the cellar at 2 a.m. Hiding under a stairs, he fired at the police in the cellar while those above began chopping through the door to reach him.

CHEYENNE IN GALE.

Cheyenne, Wyo., was swept by a wind blowing fifty miles an hour.

The north of Denver are having a like experience. The wind is not as strong toward the south.

Pueblo recorded twenty-four miles an hour.

It was said that wire connections will be restored in the south by night.

MANITOBA IN BLIZZARD.

WINNIPEG (Man.), March 18.—After an investigation into profits made by retail stores selling wearing apparel in ten cities of Pennsylvania, Frank R. McClain, Fair Price Commissioner, told members of the Chamber of Commerce today he could fairly say "train robbing is fully as respectable, but not so remunerative." Mr. McClain read a list of prices at which wearing apparel is being sold in this State, showing men's overcoats are selling 91 per cent. to 216 per cent. higher than cost to the retail dealer, with ready-made clothing 90 to 170 per cent., women's hosiery 100 to 150 per cent., and high grade shoes 100 to 114 per cent. higher. He also told the business men that the chief obstacles to the Fair Price Commission's work are erected by business men.

Convict Mutineers.

NORFOLK (Va.), March 18.—Thirty-one members of the crew of the American steamship Poughkeepsie were convicted in the Federal District Court here today of conspiring to incite a revolt aboard ship while she was at the Bermuda Islands. Each was sentenced to forty days' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $50.

The defendants, claiming that their articles had expired, refused to work from Bermuda to an American port. An armed guard from a destroyer boarded the vessel and arrested the men. The Poughkeepsie later was brought here.

To Prevent Forest Fires.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.), March 18.—The first bombing group of the air service and the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Squadron of the first pursuit group, both stationed at Kailua Field, near here, today were designated by Col. J. E. Fehet, Southern Department Air Service officer, to go to the Pacific Northwest this summer for service in connection with the prevention of forest fires.

The Associated Press through its connection with the Canadian Press Association supplied its members with the world's news. This news on receipt in San Francisco was sent to Vancouver, B. C., was sent east to Salt Lake City and to Arizona, New Mexico and western Texas points.

THIRTEEN SIMS NAVY CHARGES.

Department Responsible for Early Sub Successes.

War Prolonged by Delay in Sending Ships Across.

Inadequate Forces of Men Supplied First Months.

BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE!
WASHINGTON, March 18.—Concluding his arraignment of the Navy Department's conduct of the war, Rear Admiral Sims laid before the Senate Investigating Committee today thirteen specific counts in his indictment charging mistakes and costly delays.

The admiral's charges against the Navy Department were summarized in substance as follows:

Failure to have vessels ready for war at America's entrance.

Causing a critical situation for the Allies during the first few months of the war through success of enemy submarines.

ADVICE NOT NEEDED.

Failure to heed advice and warnings of this success.

Failure to supply him with plane or policy during the first three months of war.

Violation of fundamental military policies in attempting formulation of plans which detailed knowledge of the situation.

Attempting direction of details while 3,000 miles from the scene of active operations where the situation changed daily.

To continue to follow unsound procedure in not clearly defining responsibility and delegating authority to his representative in Europe.

NO UNIFIED COMMAND.

Violation of the principle of unity of command in control of operations in the war area.

Failure to keep his representatives abroad informed as to plans and disposition of forces in the war zone.

Failure to supply adequate forces of men or ships during the first three months of war.

Violation of fundamental principles of warfare learned from the critical areas in order to meet divisions of the enemy.

Responsibility for conditions which prompted him to induce the Navy Department's conduct of the war can be determined only on full investigation of his charges, Admiral Sims declared.

For that reason, Admiral Sims said, he had no "well founded" recommendation to make as regards the further investigation disclosed whether the errors and mistakes he has charged were due to faulty organization or inefficient personnel, he added, he would not attempt to formulate remedial procedure.

DELAY CROSSES EXAMINATION.

Cross-examination of Admiral Sims was postponed until Monday on request of Democratic members of the committee. Senator Pittman said he had requested the postponement that he might have time to read Admiral Sims' testimony.

To point out violations of well-known and generally accepted principles of warfare, such as have been shown by my testimony, is to pretend to suggest the remedy which is obviously to avoid such violations in the future," said Admiral Sims in closing his statement.

Capt. Horace Lanning, assistant chief of naval operations, an acting chief of the Bureau of Navigation during the war, has been called by the committee to testify following the cross-examination of Admiral Sims.

REPORT BERLIN CROWD STILL IN UGLY HUMOR.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALISTS CLAIM 12,000 TROOPS UNDER THEIR COMMAND.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
PARIS, March 18.—Official advances from Berlin today describing conditions there last night said the public places of the city were filled with crowds in an ugly humor. The military appeared to be of a panicky disposition. Many of the Baltic troops, the advices added, had joined with the Independent Socialists, who were reported to have 12,000 armed men at their command.

The Foreign Office reported declassified that the Von Luetwitz party, under cover of the Spartacus movement, was endeavoring to form a coalition ministry, including Independent Socialists. According to this plan, Lieut.-Gen. Berthold von Diemersch, who was one of the active leaders of the Spartacists in front, was slated to be Chancellor.

The Spartacus movement was reported continuing in the suburbs of Berlin, but the impression was that its strength was being concentrated in the military element, which was using the menace as a weapon in dealing with the other parties in an effort to force them to permit its cooperation in the formation of a new ministry.

Reports said that a soviet government had been proclaimed in Berlin but was denied by the delegations. Calm prevailed there, its members declared.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The summer training quarters at Camp Kearny for the Infantry and Junior division units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps will open Thursday, June 17, it was announced.

The army recruiting news service here today said the course will last for six weeks and includes will be students from the Western Department of the Army, Arizona, New Mexico, Hawaiian Islands admitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—A special appeal is being made to have all men between the ages of 18 and 35 report to Camp Kearny for advanced training.

Funds were raised, it appeared she would be unable to leave by train. It was planned for her to fly from Palm Beach, but the train came and she took the safer route.

Palm Beach papers, however, announced the flight as having been made. Since then Mrs. Hiatt says she has received clippings from papers in most parts of the civilized world reporting accounts of the air trip never taken.

"While I have taken several short airplane flights," said Mrs. Hiatt, "I did not make the trip from Palm Beach to Kansas City, I am afraid to go, however, but the train came. I might as well have made it as I have been given credit for it over half of the world. Some enterprising news writers reported me from Jacksonville to Kansas City."

Mr. Hiatt has been attending to business for the last two weeks.

PREDICT SIXTY CENTS GALLON FOR GASOLINE.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
HONOLULU (T. H.), March 18.—Col. Nikolavitch, Gen. Denikine's Chief of Staff, accompanied by eight officers, has arrived in Tokio, and will confer with the Japanese General Staff Friday, presumably to secure Japanese military aid to the anti-Bolshevik forces in Southern Russia, according to a cable dispatch received here by the Japanese newspaper Shimpō. The party traveled in disguise.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Confidential reports received by the Department of the Interior on California and Texas oil fields yesterday indicate such a growing scarcity of oil and its by-products, it is conservatively estimated that gasoline will sell for 60 cents a gallon before the end of the year.

The demand for gasoline distillate for tractors, commercial trucks and heavy duty marine engines has become so great that oil experts predict that within a few months retail prices will be as high as 60 cents a gallon.

None of the government experts expect a curtailment of oil use of even at the advanced price. They assert that new fields must be opened at once in order to prevent a possible shortage of automotive fuels.

AVALANCHE KILLS SEVEN.

BERNE (Switzerland), March 18.—A train was overwhelmed today by an avalanche in the Bernina Pass at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

CARRANZA'S SON-IN-LAW STRONGEST CANDIDATE.

Aguilar, Whose Greed Halted Quake Relief, Profits by Long, Wily Jockeying for Presidency.

BY GERALD BRANDON.

This is the eighth of a series of articles by Mr. Brandon on his recent three-month stay in Mexico as a correspondent of The Times. He was expelled by Carranza officials recently for writing too freely about conditions under the Carranza regime.—Ed.]

When I went to Mexico last December my first impression of electoral probabilities was that Carranza was bucking Gen. Pablo Gonzales with all the power of his administration and that the Coahuilan soldier was therefore the best bet in the Presidential race. Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the one-armed Sonoran military leader, was clearly out of the running, owing to his radicalism having frightened the general public away from his standard, while his open threats of appealing to arms in the case of his losing had estranged him from Carranza his former friend and chief.

Obregon was decidedly the favorite of the army. His war record, as the only man who has ever defeated Pancho Villa, is by far the most brilliant among those of the Carranza military leaders, most of whom have never smelt powder on the battlefield.

The open support of the administration was given to Bonilla, thus greatly weakening the Gonzales following, which consisted mainly of citizens whose principal motive in supporting him was to see that the official candidate, he would be victorious without the usual revolution. All of Mexico is wearied of fighting and would vote for any candidate who could insure the country a period of peace.

Within the past couple of weeks still another candidate for the Presidency has come out in the open, and it is difficult to say who will win. This is Gen. Candide Aguilar, Carranza's son-in-law. Aguilar is a native of the State of Vera Cruz, and is therefore more sympathetic with the people of Central Mexico, the region which contains the largest part of the Mexican population. Though not yet 30 years old, he was one of the original revolutionaries, and one of the most efficient against Porfirio Diaz. While he never had occasion to participate in any important battles, he nevertheless has had high standing among the hot-country revolutionaries, as well as among property owners in the regions where he operated.

Aguilar, whose father is a ranch owner, had never been known to deserve property or to have been forced to raise money by forced loans rather than by direct robbery, and he has seldom used court-martials and other legal methods of ridding himself of his enemies.

AGUILAR AND FUNSTON.

When the American forces occupied Vera Cruz in 1914, Aguilar was in command of the revolutionaries who in that State had taken over the political power.

Carranza, in favor of Huerta's assassination of President Madero and subsequent usurpation of the executive power. Instead of co-operating with the Americans, Carranza and the common enemy, Aguilar, sent a message to Gen. Funston requesting him to immediately re-embark and leave Mexico so that the rebel leader could not have difficulty in getting his men to return to America.

Needless to say, Funston did not comply with the request, but sent his message to Aguilar. Aguilar had no cause to worry for if the revolutionaries got out of hand, he himself, with his marines and infantrymen, would do the restraining necessary.

Carranza, however, was Aguilar's popularity in the south might make him a rival for the Presidency, deprived him of his command in Vera Cruz and appointed him Secretary of War. Later, Aguilar married the First Chief's daughter, who is nearly ten years older than her husband. Since the marriage, Carranza has shown a marked favoritism, and nepotism has been expressed in Vera Cruz, for Aguilar became Governor of his State and received the highest rank in the Mexican Army, in addition to continuing as Premier of the President's Cabinet.

ZEALOUS STUDENT.

Aguilar is ambitious. He realized that the primary education which he had received in his native village of Coatepec, and later at the hands of a man of his own job, he, therefore, employed the best tutors of Mexico to teach him languages and sciences. He studied so hard that his mental powers were excited and suffered a severe attack of brain fever endangering his life. Upon his recovery he was sent to recuperate in Europe, thus getting an opportunity to practice English and French. In order that this trip be not too hard

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nasrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawkings, sniffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no straining for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is what you need for cold and catarrh sufferers has been seeking. It's just splendid! [Advertisement]

To Peel Off Freckles, Blotchy, Pimpled Skins

As March winds bring dust and dirt are apt to injure any complexion, this new cream will give you a clear, smooth skin. If you have any sensitive skin don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. For often this only emphasizes the defect. It is much easier to remove the disfigurement with Ely's Cream Balm. Apply it at night. The wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, sellulosis, red or yellowish skin. It is a real skin tonic. The affected article is cleaned a little each day, until the clear, soft, smooth skin is obtained. Then the cream is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of moisturized wax and apply it to the skin. Use it twice a day in the morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this skin care method report amazing results. EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, March 15.—California is to have another great national park.

Practically all opposition to the creation of Roosevelt National Park along the lines of the legislation of last year has been overcome, and within a day or two the Committee on Public Lands of the House will report favorably the bill for the establishment of a national memorial for Theodore Roosevelt.

The Sequoia National Park will be embraced in the new and great national playground, and practically all of the additional acreage proposed in last year's bill will be included in the new park.

FIXED BOUNDARIES.

The boundaries of the proposed park have been changed to meet the wishes of the forest service and the Department of Agriculture. These changes will eliminate about 100,000 acres from the total area.

Negotiations looking for a common solution of the new boundaries by both the Interior and Agriculture departments have been completed to the satisfaction of the Public Lands Committee.

There has been no opposition in the House to the bill, but it would probably become a law except for the inter-departmental differences as to boundaries.

As this has now been ironed out it is expected in the House, and will meet prompt action.

Inasmuch as the upper house has already passed the bill it is believed that the Roosevelt national park bill will be in the hands of the Senate by April 1.

There is every indication that it will receive executive approval.

FEDERAL JURISDICTION.

In the House today Representative Baker reported favorably a bill committing the United States to accept full jurisdiction of law in all of the California national parks, including Yosemite and Sequoia.

This bill excepts the grant of full jurisdiction as contained in the bill to that effect approved by Gov. Stephens April 15.

Every topic will be considered, first, before the bill goes to the government to production will be first taken up and under that heading will be considered anti-trust legislation and taxation. Business of every kind is destined to be keenly interested in taxation, especially excess profits taxes.

Another phase of the problem to be discussed will be the part of the government in the regulation of business in increasing farm production. Secretary of Agriculture Merriell will speak for the government. The relation of labor to production will be another point from both sides, the employee's viewpoint to be presented by a representative of the American Federation of Labor and the employer by a business man who is general manager for each of several great divisions of industry.

JAP INFANTS BUYING SACRAMENTO HOUSES.

INVESTIGATION SHOWS PURCHASES MADE IN NAME OF INFANTS IN ARMS.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SACRAMENTO, March 18.—Investigation by the grand jury yesterday into the purchase of homes by Japanese revealed that the owners are three Japanese girls, aged 2, 5 and 12 years.

The property was purchased for the children by their father, Y. Miwa, a local clothing merchant.

Officials of the grand jury announced that the facts in the case will be referred to Atty.-Gen. Webb.

Atty.-Gen. Webb, of the state Department of Justice, said he had received information from May Miwa, Sutu Miwa and H. Miwa, recorded as owners of the property, deputy sheriff found they were babies; one a babe in arms. The children with their parents and the father testified to purchasing the property in their names. He said the children are American-born.

The purpose of presenting the facts as brought out by the jury to Atty.-Gen. Webb is to determine whether the purchase of property in this manner is a subterfuge and evasion of the law and the provision of the treaty between the United States and Japan.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, March 18.—According to a report made today by A. B. Fletcher, engineer of the State Highway Commission, $26,625, $50,19 has been spent by the commission out of the money raised from the first two bond issues, and $239 miles of highway have been completed or are under contract. Of this mileage 1316 miles is in the northern half of the State and 1872 miles in Southern California.

The largest expenditure for highway work in the state and one county was in Los Angeles, where the work was done by the commission.

CHICAGO, March 18.—

There is this to be said about the new fashions for the season, that one cannot tell whether the wearer thereof is coming or going. This goes for the shape, or lack of shape, just as you please. As for the materials, one is in doubt. They are coming and coming strongly.

"The wild flowers of America," yards and yards of them reproduced on silk, are featured at the Fashion Art League annual convention.

Dandelions, pansies, irises, daisies figure in great profusion. There is sheer maid and net and Ruff A. Nuff and dream crepe, that has fairies and elves playing hide and seek all over its surface, purple, sea green and some entirely new rose shades.

It is said that the United States is now manufacturing more silk than all other countries of the world combined, having wrested supremacy from Japan. The claim is also made that American silk manufacturers are already monopolizing the South American market.

A dispatch to the Times from Abo Monday, in announcing the arrest of the man on board a Finnish steamer, said he had English, American and German passports and diamonds and money aggregating a large sum. Also, there was found on him, according to the dispatch, a copy of the Finnish propaganda literature, cunningly prepared photograph films, reduced to the size of postage stamps, and a very small compass.

John Reed, editor of the United Labor, went to the party of the Communist Labor party in the United States, was indicted in Chicago with a large number of other alleged radicals last January.

Reed was accused of overthrowing the government by force in violation of the State Syndicalism.

Previously, he was reported to have been from New York on his way to Russia to join the Bolsheviks. While in Russia, it was asserted, he was in the intention to arrange for closer affiliation between the Russians and the United States.

Reed was born in Portland, Oregon, and is about 32 years old. He is said to be a close friend of both Mussolini and Trotsky. In February of last year he appeared before the Congressional committee at Washington, investigating propaganda. In his testimony he defended the Russian government.

During the debate, Democratic leaders supported the reservation and the majority of Republicans opposed it because it included a general declaration that this nation adhered to the principle of self-determination of peoples. On the first roll call twenty-one Democrats and fifteen Republicans voted in favor of the resolution, while twenty Republicans and sixteen Democrats were recorded in the negative.

The reservation regarding Ireland follows:

"In consenting to the ratification of the treaty with Germany, the United States adhered to the principle of self-determination and to the resolution of symmetry with the resolution of the Irish people for a government of their own choice, adopted by the Senate June 6, 1919, and declares that when self-government is attained by Ireland, a compensation is hoped is at hand, it should promptly become a member of the League of Nations."

LEGISLATURE IS GOAL OF WOMEN

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—A number of women will seek nomination for seats in the Assembly at the primary election in August.

Already there are four avowed candidates in the field, being the Assemblywomen who served during the last session of the Legislature—Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Oroville, Miss Estelle Broughton of Modesto, Mrs. Grace S. Morris of Bakerfield and Mrs. Anna L. Taylor of Berkeley, while a fifth candidate, Mrs. Belle Alken of Los Angeles, is mentioned as a strong possibility.

According to word that has come to the Capitol from other sections of California, there are many women who are serious in considering the idea of becoming candidates for the Legislature.

VETERANS MAY RETIRE

The two veteran members of the Legislature, Senator Ben F. Raley of Sacramento and Representative Harry Polley of Red Bluff, may not occupy their accustomed seats at the 1921 session. They are undecided about announcing their candidacy for re-election. Senator Raley has served eight terms in the Senate, while Polley has weathered five regular sessions of the Assembly.

DELINQUENT AUTO OWNERS

Judging from present indications, thousands of California motorists will be required to pay the 25 per cent. penalty imposed by the State motor vehicle commission for neglecting to renew their license before March 1.

Officials of the motor vehicle department have decided that no one who has not paid the 25 per cent. penalty will be issued a new license for renewal before March 1, will not have to pay the delinquency penalty, officials of the department stated.

CONVENTION OF PRINCIPALS

The State high school principals convention, scheduled for the latter part of March, will be held at Astoria, Multnomah county. Due to the lack of hotel accommodations in the larger cities of the State, A. C. Okey, State commissioner of secondary schools, almost despaired of finding a place for the convention. Under present arrangements, it is probable that some of the delegates to the convention will have to live in tents south of here, may have its headquarters in the city, cut off as a result of the activities of bands of revolutionaries and bandits in that region.

Railroad traffic is interrupted on three lines leading out of Astoria, caused by the destruction of bridge piers by the revolutionaries.

Webb ruled that teachers in the State School for Deaf and Blind must have taught under a valid certificate for at least ten years before they can be entitled to the benefits of the act.

TEACHER FAMINE ACUTE.

With the decreasing supply of normal school graduates, from which to select teachers, the teacher shortage problem in California threatens to become more acute, according to Will C. Wood, State superintendent of public instruction.

Wood reported that 1,000 students graduated 1915, as compared with 621 for the current year, said Wood. When the shortage in the Los Angeles Normal School, which now is affiliated with the State University, is taken into consideration, the reduction of graduates since 1915 will total 660, he said.

ACTION IS DEFERRED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OTTAWA (Ont.) March 18.—A number of women will seek nomination for seats in the Assembly at the primary election in August.

Already there are four avowed candidates in the field, being the Assemblywomen who served during the last session of the Legislature—Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Oroville, Miss Estelle Broughton of Modesto, Mrs. Grace S. Morris of Bakerfield and Mrs. Anna L. Taylor of Berkeley, while a fifth candidate, Mrs. Belle Alken of Los Angeles, is mentioned as a strong possibility.

British Columbia members are known to be strongly favorable to naval protection for the Pacific Coast, and maritime provinces also feel similarly regarding the Atlantic Coast, but it is thought to be advisable to delay action. There will be no naval legislation at the present session.

Today probably an air force met a more sympathetic reception and one will likely be formed.

The Unionist members favor Canada's adopting the mother country's stand, but there should be no immediate action.

OFFICIALS RAIDS INTERRUPT MINING AND AGRICULTURAL WORK IN TORREON REGION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORREON (Mex.) March 18.—As a result of the recent reappearance of Francisco Villa and a large force of revolutionaries in the Torreon region, mining and agricultural operations, which had begun to assume normal proportions, are again beginning to be seriously interrupted.

The large smelter of the American Smelting and Refining Company at Asarco, State of Durango, about fifty miles south of here, may have a large number of employees cut off as a result of the activities of the revolutionaries.

In the Arizona desert, one placed there by the initiative of the company, ascribing elaborate regulations to govern electrical construction work. In a test case, brought under the jurisdiction of the local utility, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was adjudged guilty of violation of the act and a small fine was imposed. From this judgment appeal has been taken to the State Supreme Court. It appears that in the Pima County Superior Court the law had been held invalid, on the ground that such construction regulations should be given by the State Corporation Commission.

At Compton Inn, the ceremony announced, has occurred the marriage of Miss Alice Redwill of this city and Dr. C. C. Miller, a young banker of Austin, Kan. The couple are in California on a pleasure trip.

Planners of the泛美公路 (Pan American Highway) are in the process of surveying the route across the mountains of the Andes, and the route through the Andes is expected to be the most difficult and dangerous in the world.

EXECUTIVE DISPATCH.
MEXICO CITY, March 13.—For the first time in the political history of Mexico a candidate for President, Gen. Alvaro Obregon, is making a campaign tour of the country, meeting the people and making public speeches in much the same way as in Presidential campaigns in the United States.

The late Francisco I. Madero, Jr., attempted to do the same thing two years ago, but he had made only a few speeches when he was arrested by order of President Porfirio Diaz and thrown into jail at San Luis Potosi. He made his escape from prison and fled to the United States.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU.

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Colored Tablets That Are Nonallergic, Safe and Sure.

Physicians and druggists claim that the great epidemic of influenza has conclusively demonstrated that the quickest relief for a cold and the best preventive of influenza and pneumonia is to keep the liver active so that the digestive organs may be in perfect condition. For this purpose Calotabs, the new nonallergic colored tablets that are free from the side effects and side reactions, is the most thorough and dependable, as well as the most agreeable laxative.

Calotabs have the special advantage of not making the patient sick and weak, as they do not upset the digestion and appetite. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water that's all. No salts, no acids, nor the slightest interference with your eating, drinking or working. Calotabs, your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price fifty-five cents. Sold by all druggists and your money back if you are not delighted with them. —Advertisement.

HOOVER DENIES GORE CHARGES

Claims Responsibility for Flasing of Food Prices During War.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Herbert Hoover, formerly Food Administrator, today filed with Senator Phelan a long and detailed statement categorically denying the charges of some of his opponents that he personally fixed prices of food commodities during the war, and was responsible for inflation or profiteering.

He protested that all prices were arrived at by communications appointed by the President, who after complete hearings and examinations of all the facts fixed the food prices.

Mr. Hoover did not mention any name, but it is assumed that the answer was made to charges recently made in Texas and reached in the Senate through Senator Gore.

BERLIN IN PURGE.

During the late hours of the night great excitement prevailed, though many of the population remained indoors. Newsboys with single-sheet editions of the Morgan, Paul and Vossische Zeitung were literally mobbed, so eager were they to obtain news which had been so long denied.

Agitators appeared early in the morning and quickly drew crowds. In Wilhelmsstrasse a soldier harangued a group of comrades and civilians with a tirade against foreigners. There was a fresh outbreak of agitation against Jews, and the street speakers called upon the people to keep them out of public office.

A strange airplane drew thousands of eyes as it dropped leaflets signed by members of Professional Soldiers of Germany, which said they were opposed to a new government and would recognize only the government to which they had sworn allegiance; and await the call of Nazis.

Food prices continued to soar, and there has been a scramble of the people generally to lay in as much as possible. The markets were evoked and all the stalls soon closed. Attacks at protest meetings evoked bitter opposition; several shops were wrecked. The inability of the poor to pay the prices demanded for staple foods is bound to cause considerable distress and agitation.

MILITARY CONTROL.

In consequence of Dr. Kapp's abdication Berlin will be under a military dictatorship until the civil government is re-established. Yesterday afternoon a military conference was held. The members of Von Loevitz's staff filled the reception hall of the Chancellery and the intention appeared to be to add a military rule of the most severe order to prevent the possibility of the radicals attempting a rising.

The fact that the independents and Communists as far as reported did not call upon to act unless disorder should occur in the actual zone of American occupation, where the preservation of order comes under the jurisdiction of the American occupying forces.

This explanation is made by officials here, in view of a report from abroad that, since the Allied nations have ratified the German peace, the American forces in Germany were the only troops which could be called upon to act if military steps became necessary, as the United States is technically at war with Germany.

During the Spanish trouble in January, 1919, 400 were killed in Berlin alone. In March, 1919, the official figures placed the number at 18,000, and many of the participants of the fighting were unaccounted for. The property loss through the wanton destruction and looting was estimated then at 100,000,000 marks. The little damage to property thus far has resulted in the clashes incident to this revolution.

REPORT RED ARMY.

Serious news is coming to Berlin from the provinces today. Bitterfeld, Saxony, is reported to be in the hands of Communists, and the whole of the Rhine-Westphalia industrial district is said to have turned Communist. A Red Army is reported marching from the south of Munster. Severe fighting is said to have taken place at Mülheim, in which the town persons are reported to have been killed and fifteen wounded at Plauen.

Falkenstein is in the hands of Communists and Meiningen and Langensalza is in control of the workers.

COPENHAGEN, March 18.—A telegram message from Hamburg today said there was violent fighting between troops and students on the one hand and the police on the other at Kiel. The message said the workers were attacking with bombs, hand grenades, machine guns and trench mortars, and that many persons had been killed or wounded.

NO COMPROMISES.

A telegram from Stuttgart evidently emanating from the Ebert government denies that the Imperial government has accepted the resignation of Gen. Von Loevitz. It also denies that the leaders of the majority parties have negotiated with the other parties relative to holding elections in June, election of an Imperial President and formation of a new organization of the Cabinet.

The telegram says that the leaders of the majority parties are nearly all in agreement, and the Imperial government has refused at all times to make any declaration or take any decision under pressure of the revolt.

DISCIPLINE REVOLT TROOPS.

The Baue cabinet has insisted that the troops in Berlin be placed under the command of a general who was not involved in the revolt. Immediate abolition of the Iron Division, made up of troops formerly in the Eastern Legions, who were involved in the occupation of Berlin Saturday morning, has been demanded, and the disbandment of the naval brigade, which also had a part in Saturday's disorders, will be insisted upon.

WESTERN GERMANY RIOTING.

AMSTERDAM, March 18.—The outcome of a military barracks in Rostock, Meklenburg-Schwerin, by working men who stormed the place and then announced that they had occupied the city, is not yet known. The Handelsblatt's Berlin correspondent today.

SITUATION IMPROVING.

LONDON, March 18.—Diplomatic dispatches from Germany last night gave a much more optimistic view of the situation than those of the day before, indicating more reports of Socialist uprisings. This is a complete reversal of the opinion expressed Tuesday night by the same diplomats, who then informed the press that the republic was more to be feared than the Kapp government.

Nearly the whole of Western Germany is in the hands of extremists, the correspondents add. In Cuxhaven a soviet republic has been promoted by President Ebert and his government. It is signed by Ebert and is similar to the communication previously sent out by Vice-Premier Schiffer. Among other things, the new proclamation says: "The entire administration Berlin is ended. Irrefutable proof has been given the whole world by the struggle of the last few days that Germany is a republic. No deception can be made. Another Junker, Von Lustwitz,"

A state of siege is maintained and the Prussian government has instructed the protection of Berlin to the reichswehr and the security forces. It is declared that a military dictatorship persists.

There has been no change in the system, but only a change of persons. The independents will not accept this situation.

There were fewer disturbances than last night, though any night since the beginning of the revolution. Several detachments of troops were sent away, but the majority was still in the city. Wilhelmsstrasse was crowded with them all carrying hand grenades; several squads trundled machine guns and flame throwers. When the Baltic troops have all left, the work of garrisoning the city will be undertaken by regular government troops garrisoned in Berlin and the security police.

PRANCE WATCHING.

LONDON, March 18.—(By CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PARIS, March 18.—Replies to a discussion of the government's foreign policy, Premier Millerand in the Chamber of Deputies today said:

"I have nothing to report concerning the events that are happening in Germany. As regards our own action and common action by the Allies, we are taking and will continue to take every initiative for safeguarding our interests and security."

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION.

(By CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

STUTTGART, March 18.—The German Assembly met to-day in the Fine Arts Building, presided over by Konstantin Fehrenbach, who issued the call to the present session. There will be a formal debate on the formation of a new government, especially from the Socialist party, and also of uniformed Reichswehr officers.

President Fehrenbach said that the legitimate fruits and victories of the last revolution be retained, but that the government must be a new government and would recognize only the government to which he had sworn allegiance; and await the call of Nazis.

Firing is almost continuous in various parts of Berlin and all the light and water services have been cut off, according to the Americans, who are principally buyers from various parts of the United States.

Gen. Allen has directed the German Railway Commission to keep the railroad lines open, which will start for Leipzig tomorrow.

NURFURTH FIGHTING.

(By CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

THE HAGUE, March 18.—The Dutch government was to task yesterday to end the disturbances between government troops and Communists at Elberfeld, Rhinehessen. Prussia accordingly to the Dutch Press Bureau. The disturbances started on Friday, when a number of them fled to the occupied region, where they were disarmed by Entente troops, the Bureau says.

MEN NEEDED BADLY.

Men are needed to operate these mechanical tractors and they are for it in the army. The War Department having an especially strong interest in instruction of men for enlisted men at ordnance schools, operating maintenance schools at Fort Monmouth, N. J., the schools for the training of ordnance enlisted men, particularly of the corps of engineers, are now open. On January 20, 1920, a bill was passed by Congress authorizing the War Department to buy certain surplus motor-propelled and self-propelled motor vehicles and equipment for road-making material, roads and other branches of the service.

The caterpillar has now returned to Europe, where it is used especially in agriculture.

TEXAS PRISON LIST DWINDLES.

Penitentiary Entries for Year Smallest on Record.

Homicides by Women of Lone Star State Increasing.

Farmers Lead in Convicts; No Newspaper Men.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

AUSTIN (Tex.) March 18.—While there is no certain way of knowing what effect prohibition, which has been in force in Texas for a little more than two years, has had upon the prison population of the State, it is shown by the annual report of the State Prison Commission that there were a smaller number of convicts received at the penitentiary during the last twelve months than for several years. One of the remarkable features of criminality at this time, however, is the increase of homicides committed by women. In Dallas, the number of murders by women has become so alarming that the authorities there have been impelled to announce that no leniency will be shown in the prosecution of criminals of this kind because of their sex. It is asserted that none of the women murderers can be traced to prohibition.

There was a decrease in the number of the convicts during the year 1926 to 2726. The total number of convicts received during the year being only 1632; 187 were recaptured and thirty-two were returned from parole. To offset this 920 were discharged: 706 were pardoned, 259 escaped, forty-three died and 126 were paroled.

Of these pardoned 229 were serving their first sentence, sixteen a second term, and only two who were serving a third term. In the matter of age, most of those pardoned were over 50, 111 under 25, 25, seventy-nine under 30, fifty-two under 35, forty-six under 40, thirty-seven under 50, twenty-two under 40, four under 70 and two more than 70 years of age.

The People and Their Troubles

Why Men Marry

By JANE DIXON.

"A man marries because he believes he has found the woman who can answer satisfactorily his search for happiness,"—JOSEPHINE DASKAM BACON.

Another logical reason why men invest in plain gold band rings. Sound logic, too.

They are also sound, these answers to a very pertinent question who write and who, as successful story weavers, must be fairly close to the human heart. Josephine Daskam Bacon, whose wit is of the caliber of a Toledo blade and who manages to see the whimsical side of life with clarity, has pointed her to tell it amazingly to others, "One-ed" the question of men and marriage when it was put to her. "Men marry because—because—why because they marry, of course," she said with the fullness of her answer.

"But you must have some one or some few special reasons why they commit matrimony," I protested.

"I haven't the remotest idea," insisted Mrs. Bacon. "They simply do it, that's all."

"There must be a cause before there can be an effect," I reminded myself, and I took up a cup of tea from the table and sipped it. "I hope, though, that a woman who has graduated with flying colors from Smith College should at least acknowledge the law of cause and effect."

"Yes, yes—of course," brightly.

"And inasmuch as you are marrying off men and women and folks who are in love, you must have some notion why you escort them to the altar," I continued.

A sigh of relief from Mrs. Bacon, and the merriest sort of a laugh. The trap door was open and she was able to effect an escape through her books.

NEVER THINKS OF STORY LOVES

"I never think of the marriage ceremonies I perform—in my stories," she confessed. "They just seem to happen in the natural sequence of events."

"Come to ponder the question, I believe men marry because they find, or think, they have found, their complement."

"We are all more or less selfish in this business of life. What we want more than anything else is success in happiness."

"So then, when a man meets a girl or a woman who appeals to him physically, mentally, socially, financially, he is likely to marry her. The varying dominion in which femininity rules itself, he is like a young colt in a green pasture. What those tender blots of grace are to the brawn-for-cultivation promise of happiness through marriage and the right mate is to a man,

"It is a wholesome selfishness, this quest for happiness on the part of marriageable men. It is the driving force which finds homes, builds cities, propagates Presidents and presidents."

TEAM WORK.
Co-operation won the war and it would still win the peace if the politicians at Washington would give it a chance.

REGULAR FRIENDS.
Burglars invaded a Catholic church in Glendale and made away with the supply of sacramental wine. This form of sacrifice is liable to develop into a busy industry unless the churches keep their supply in burglar-proof vaults.

BUST AND ROBUST.
Prof. Leonard Hill of London cordially recommends low-necked dresses for women and declares that they make for robust health. It is time that something good was said for them, but we'll bet a blue chip that this is not the reason the women are wearing them.

SKY HIGH.
Got any stock in the Atlantic Refining Company? The $100 shares sold for $1250 apiece on the New York Stock Exchange. This is the stiffest price ever known in that emporium of barter. The previous record was made when Northern Pacific touched $1000 in May, 1901.

WHIRLING WHEELS.
One person out of every six of the population of Iowa owns an auto and there is a tractor in every fifteen farms. They do believe in making the wheels go 'round in the Hawkeye State. The next State to it in these percentages is California, which may be a matter of reasoning from cause to effect.

A HORSE APIECE.
The Germans are preparing a list of Allied atrocities as an offset to the black-list of the Supreme Council. They wish to show that war is two-edged, even in barbarism. But the greatest offense of Marshal Foch's forces was the Sennish manner in which they chased the Kaiser's noble supporters from their comfortable steam-heated trenches. That was a naughty trick.

MAJORITY RULE.
Too many of the decisions of the Supreme Court are handed down on a five-to-four vote. They ought to be more unanimous. When a man figures that if one justice out of nine had thought the other way the decision would have been exactly reversed he is not disposed to accept the result in the proper spirit of finality. He would accept the conclusions of a single judge with more complacency than the opinion of a bare majority in a court of nine. If there is a right and a wrong side to every case it would be pleasanter if the justices indicated closer team work in disclosing the right.

AT THE RINGSIDE.
The former German Crown Prince has been taking boxing lessons and training hard for the last four months and is said to have developed into a real handy man with the gloves. It is said that he has an upstart that is quite convincing. Here is a chance for Dempsey to square himself. Put him in the ring with the Prince and tell Frederick William that he can have his job back if he makes a showing against the American champion. Then let them go to it for the benefit of the League of Nations—which needs a benefit bad enough, heaven knows. But it is funny that the German Prince should only learn to fight after the war is over.

SUBTLE WOMAN.
The president of the Fashion Art League—which seems to be an organization of maniacured and massaged modistes—announces at the league convention that "never were American women so well dressed as now." It's a mighty good thing that we are getting something for our money, but the lady undoubtedly means quality rather than quantity when she speaks of well-dressed women. Some of 'em show nothing much but an expanse of proud flesh and a million dollars' worth of sables and pearls. The lady adds: "Women are expressing themselves in dress more subtly and harmoniously than ever before." That is the big idea. When a dame dressed down to the waist line from the top and up to the knee line from the bottom she is expressing herself subtly.

A PREACHER'S PLEASURES.
The two hundred Methodist ministers who gathered in conference in Chicago approved unanimously a recommendation that the section of the general law of the church which forbids ministers from attending theaters or indulging in alcohol, dancing, card playing and gambling be repealed. This does not mean that the preachers want to drink and play poker, but rather to demonstrate that the Methodist church no longer thinks it a crime for a minister to go to the movies or make a fourth hand at whist. It is argued that the law never did help the church and that, in fact, it might have driven some away in the belief that the rustics denied the clergy were also forbidden to lay mephibs. The church does not propose to encourage shimmy dancing or crap shooting, but the feeling is that if the preachers wants to go to "Pollyanna" or sit in at bridge he is not to be treated as an outcast. On the whole it is pleasant to notice these evidences of liberalism in the church. Even a minister may be able to smoke a cigar without going to Hades for a light.

THE POT CALLING THE KETTLE BLACK.

of the earth held in trust for undeveloped peoples. The experiment is a new department in international policy. Each of the mandatories is held under the sanction of the League of Nations, which will exercise a general supervision over the whole. It is an attempt to supplant national greed with international justice.

THE ALLIES AND GERMANY.
The Junker coup d'état in Berlin seems to have thrown Germany into the vortex of a red revolution. Civil war, with its sanguinary horrors, has rent the republic.

Germany is reaping the crop of hate that she sowed when the German people followed the mad Hohenzollern on his career of world conquest.

The frightfulness that was once practiced on neighboring peoples is now in evidence in the strife of class against class and section against section.

Cities that were spared during the war are now being robbed by a power-crated proletariat. The fabric of reconstruction is shredded. The Junker class that once dreamed of world dominion is now engaged in a deadly struggle to protect life and property from the Bolsheviks.

Those who hoped that the world should be visited upon the Huns are apparently to be satisfied. Spared by the Allies, Germany is now facing self-destruction.

But, as The Times observed on Sunday morning, it is Germany's funeral. The peace treaty which Germany signed with the Allies guarantees the right to regulate internal affairs without outside interference, so long as the terms of the treaty are not violated.

It is possible that the empire shall be plunged into a whirlpool of anarchy which will endanger the terms of that treaty. Germany owes a heavy debt to her neighbors. The debt is guaranteed by the wealth and the industry of the empire. If a Bolshevik revolution sets at the mad destruction of that property the Allies may be concerned; for they would be destroying something that is not their own. It is equivalent to looting property covered by a chattel mortgage. The holder of the mortgage has a right to demand that his interests be protected.

There is a limit beyond which Germany cannot go. A soviet Germany would not be competent to give guarantees for carrying out the terms of the peace treaty. Germany is in the position of an involuntary bankrupt. Her property is in the hands of the Allied Council until final settlement has been made.

Total annihilation of industry and property rights would mean a repudiation of Germany's war debts. If such is attempted the result would likely be the occupation of the German industrial centers by Allied troops and the allocation of a mandatory for the empire.

Latest dispatches are to the effect that the Fatherland party's coup d'état has ended in a fiasco. Wily old Von Hindenburg kept his hands clear of it. This would indicate that even the middle classes were not willing to accept a government, under any pledges, with the old Junker element at the head of it. Men who had betrayed Germany once were not to be trusted a second time with supreme control.

At present all is confusion. By its cowardly flight the Ebert government displayed a fatal weakness. A government that collapsed from so slight a push must have been tottering. If Von Hindenburg had declared himself for the Von Kapp government it is possible that it might have made headway against the radicals. But when he declined to accept the Von Kapp regime the army refused to support it longer. All that remained for Von Kapp and the other Junkers was to cast off the purple robes of high office and save their own skins.

Toying with governmental institutions in the face of radicalism is always a risky experiment. The Spartan fire has been smoldering in Germany for more than a year, and the Von Kapp revolt fanned it into a new conflagration. The constitutional government seems to have disappeared, and the struggle reduced itself to one between limited monarchy and Bolshevism.

It is likely that Von Kapp was deserted by high army officials who had promised to co-operate. He seems to have neglected the warning that he who signs with the devil should provide himself with a long spoon."

While there has been as yet no disposition on the part of the Allies to interfere, the Bolshevik turn which the revolt has

WORKIN' TO WIN.

BY E. K. HARVEY.

A PANE-FUL SHOT.

When the day's work begins are we diggin' in with the determination that there's going to be a lot to show for our eight hours, or are we trying to find ways to kill time and get out of doing hard things? If we're shirkin' it's time to turn on more juice, get in high and invent a speedometer that registers no limit. So only can we win the race and get the ogle.

Honest men there are of us who believe in saving training along in low as "Tin Lizzy," trying to steer clear of all the hard bumps and falls and hollerin' loud and long when having to climb steep grades! Having no good, high-powered engine—through lack of strenuously going at it for years—the machine balks on the climb and runs into the ruts. The hill-race and its Great Starter are called crooked, and so we're ruled off the track.

IN LINE.

I rise each morning when seven bells ring out from my alarm; I wait in line to wash my face. A towel on my arm.

I stand in line to comb my hair. (Or room-mates have three.) And so when I go to breakfast get in line never room for me.

I wait in line outside the door For second-time "serve." I reach the door in time to see My car swing round the curve.

I chase a block to catch that car And nearly break my neck. Climb through the crowd upon the step And gain the upper deck.

I step forward in the aisle, please, Shall I see my "car Stop" stand? And by the time I reach the door And a block away from the bus.

I wait again with other clerks, The tardy list to sign. And sweep for the efficiency That never can be mine.

Oh, I wait in line at the movies And I wait in line at church. And I wait in line at Hugo's Just to drink a glass of birch.

And when the shades of night descend In line I say my prayers: I bet some time I'll wait in line To climb the golden stairs.

I wait in line for the doctor. I wait in line for the nurse. And if I die of the influ I'll wait in line for the hearse.

And now that the battle is over And the navy is badly mired. They expect me to hang around here. And wait in line to be fired.

What Was Really Said During the Movie Love Scene.

Hero: How's your husband, Maggie?

Hermoine: Oh, pretty fair, thanks. Come on! Show a little anxiety over this kiss, or you'll spoil the picture.

Hero: I'm showing as little as possible!

Hermoine: Don't make me giggle. This is supposed to be serious—the last kiss before death do us part!

Hero: That so? I haven't read the scenario yet.

Hermoine: That nutty guy with the long hair who's been running around here lately is not the story. They say it's a knockout.

Hero: That's what they all say, but they've got to show me.

Two hundred persons attended the first annual reception and dance held last night by the City Club at its quarters in the Investment Building. The affair was a celebration of the fact that the organization has just moved from its permanent home. A buffet luncheon was provided in the dining-room.
The new directors acted as a reception committee and were joined by Mr. A. G. Ziegler, A. L. Stephens, John S. Myers, Harlan G. Palmer, C. C. Graham,
Silas Evans, Alfred G. Faulkner,
George Bidwell, Frank Baker, A. W. Frye, L. R. Wharton, Leslie R. Saunders and Roy Malcolm. The directors will meet next Thursday and organize for the year by electing officers. They report that during the year the membership has grown from 400 to 250, that the financial condition is good and that the activities of the organization include four meetings a week, a forum, a public question,
two speaking meetings a month,
an interesting feature last night was the exhibition dancing by professionals.

Phelan to Work Vigorously for Los Angeles Commerce Board Told.

Starting the fight against the action of the House committee, which eliminated from the naval appropriation bill the item for the proposed submarine base at the harbor the Chamber of Commerce has enlisted the active services of Senator Phelan in an effort to have the matter reconsidered and the item restored.
Senator Phelan wired as follows in response to the chamber's appeal:

"House committee struck the Los Angeles item from the appropriation bill, but I shall vigorously oppose such action by the Senate committee.
There is a good prospect, I believe, of the Senate passing the item, but you should bring pressure to bear upon House members to hold it in conference."

KING HEADED BURGLAR GANG THAT FIRED VOLLEY AT POLICEMAN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, March 18.—A sentence of from six to eight years in State prison was given Clifford S. King, aged 28, of Union street, Los Angeles, who pleaded guilty in the East California Superior Court to shooting Patrolman Henry Loughlin in a gun battle following the burlary of Smith Bros. tailor shop
Newton. King, last Wednesday, King, one of five men who were araigned and pleaded guilty to the burglary.

The shooting of Patrolman Loughlin was the climax of a widespread series of burglaries that had kept the police on the alert for three months. The prisoners were particularly desperate characters completely under the control of King, it is said to be known in other cases for burglary and armed assault.

Patrolman Loughlin surprised the gunmen in the act of looting the Smith store, and the only man calling for their surrender, received a volley instead.

After combing the city the police finally found King through information given by a former sweetheart.
Following his arrest the remaining members were rounded up.

Los Angeles County News--South of Tehachepi's Top.*FIND WOMAN'S BODY.

Death of Husband Robs Widow of Desire to Live.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA PAULA, March 18.—The body of Mrs. Josephine Gralinger Hardard, ranch owner of Santa Paula, was found yesterday morning in the rear of her home, 130 Davis street, by Mel Hardard, the husband of her stepdaughter, who discovered it hanging from a rope tied to a rafter in a small cup near containing a few drops of carbolic acid, and traces of the poison had been swallowed.

It was known there was no immediate cause for the woman's act of self-destruction other than a despondent condition since the death of her husband, of whom she had taken care for several years, and a tendency toward insanity.

Mrs. Hardard had lived in this valley for many years and for the last ten years in Santa Paula, and was the owner of considerable real estate ranging property in this vicinity.

Mrs. Mel Hardard of the Hardard ranch east of Santa Paula and Mrs. Doble of Los Angeles are two daughters of her late husband, and B. Gralinger is a brother of the dead woman.

CALEXICO, March 18.—A few minutes after he had gone to work on the new Weed building and just after he had climbed to the roof to go to work, M. T. O'Neill fell through several floors to the basement and was picked up unconscious. After his experiments he was unconscious.

The force of his fall was greatly broken by each floor. When picked up and examined it was found that no bones had been broken and he expects to be at work again within a few days.

Permits this Year to Date

Total $517,365.

Catholic Clergyman Celebrates Silver Jubilee.Orange County Town Church Going Community.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, March 18.—Just eleven weeks after January 1, Santa Ana is well on the way to set a new high building mark in 1926, with 194 city permits issued already this year to date, aggregating $517,365. The total was boosted past the half-million mark this week when fourteen permits, aggregating $27,540, were issued by Building Inspector Thomas Ash, and bringing the March total to date to $74,220.

Already the 1926 total is two-thirds of the previous high mark of $764,701 set in 1919, and at the present rate the new potential will reach a total in excess of $2,000,000, an unusually high mark for cities of 18,000 population.

Work is beginning on a new Orange county garage at Church and Lyons streets to cost $27,000, and a new Sheriff's office on Seventh and Sycamore streets, to cost $4600, with R. C. McMillan the contractor in each case.

Approximately fifty new residences have already been built in course of construction, which were started since January 1, 1926.

These, together with the new $200,000 hotel, and several business and industrial buildings, bring the total up to $27,540, slightly higher than last like period in history.

CHURCH-GOING TOWN.

There are comparatively few people in Santa Ana without a church preference, whether they are members of that church or not, it was disclosed today when reports of the recently-organized church census were made public.

A total of 1,623 homes were visited, and 8722 people tabbed. Out of this number there were only 172 who expressed no church preference. Sixty-seven were non-practicing, the remaining sought as to religious beliefs.

The preferences were scattered among forty-five different beliefs and denominations, most of which are represented with congregations in Santa Ana, and the others were turned over to the pastor of churches according to the preferences indicated, for an intensive "drive" for additional church members.

OLDEST MONSIGNOR.

Rev. Father Henry Eumusen, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church here, was today receiving congratulations of many friends on the silver jubilee anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Pope Leo XIII. The title was conferred March 17, 1895, and Rev. Eumusen is the oldest doctor reverend monsignor in point of service in the United States. The papal prelate, to be called "Father," refused to make use of the higher titles to which he is entitled, saying he "has no more use for them than a rabbit."

SANTA ANA LICENSES.

Marriage licenses here: William T. Green, 54, and Ruth C. Locker, 55, both Los Angeles; Lawrence Cahill, 42, Colton, and Fannie Hartman, 39.

PLANS CELEBRATION.

Capt. Chancery Shackford, commander of the Submarine Base, today announced plans for the celebration to be held at the base on March 27 in honor of Naval Reserve Day. Big programs of athletic battle maneuvers between seaplanes, submarines and other features were announced.

All members of the submarine force are invited and asked to bring their families and friends. The visitors will be shown over the subchasers, submarines, U.S.S. Alert, U.S.S. Idaho and other vessels and will have opportunities of maneuvering and subchasing. Passball and dancing will be included in the programme.

LIBRARIAN TO QUIT.

Chamber of Commerce Makes Offer of Fine Position.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RIVERSIDE, March 17.—Predictions are being freely made on the streets here that Joseph F. Daniels, public librarian, will be the next managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, whose directorial office has the position at a salary of $125 per month. The position has been vacant since the recent resignation of Dr. Harry L. Boardman, who was called to take a position with the Interchurch World Movement. Among those who are most confident of Daniels' appointment to forsake his work in the library field are library enthusiasts who have noted with dismay the gradual reduction of the tax levy for library purposes during the last few years.

FLASHES.

MAY GO ABROAD SOON

MARY PICKFORD WANTS TO VISIT THE ORIENT.

By Grace Kingsley.

The fact that Douglas Fairbanks has severely injured his hand in the course of his picture making may hold up Mary Pickford's trip abroad, according to Miss Pickford's statement yesterday. It seems that United Artists are somewhat behind in their releases, and as Fairbanks, due to his accident, may not be able to work for three or four weeks, and as someone must fill in the breach, Miss Pickford may chance her plans to go abroad early in the spring, and remain for another picture following "Hop o' My Thumb." This succeeding film, according to present plans, will be H. T. Quiller-Couch's story, "True Tilda," continuity for which will be done by Waldemar Young, who also wrote "Hop o' My Thumb." Or it may be that merely the interiors for "Tilda" will be made here, while exteriors will be filmed in England.

Miss Pickford said yesterday that she was not in good health and that she had been advised to travel to seek fresh ideas as well as renewed health. She wants not only to make a picture in England, but one in Ireland as well, and possibly one in the Orient.

"The first thing I want most to do in the world, speaking professionally," said Miss Pickford, "is to make a picture in Ireland. I want to show the Irish people as they really are, not as they have been travestied on the screen. I often dream of going to Alziers and take a desert trip. That appeals to my imagination. I shall have a cameraman on the job to be ready to take pictures at a moment's notice. If the spirit moves me. As far as the Orient goes, I believe that real life appeals to me in the midst of these rushed days of picture making. Probably I won't be tired of loading in two weeks, however."

When Miss Pickford goes abroad, it will be as the guest and protege of the management of the Lord Northcliffe publications in England, and already she has received offers, through this source, of the use of various country houses of titled folk as the background of any stories she might wish to film.

As the heroine of "Hop o' My Thumb," Miss Pickford wears a make-up comparable to that of "Star Dust." All the prettiness has been pulled back to rough knot, and the face is made to look sunken, as the role is that of a laundry slave. She had a hard time to persuade her mother to let her wear such a mask, as she was, but finally succeeded with the argument:

"Why, mother, I can't get a beau in this story, and it would be nonsense not to make myself look as homely as I can."

Marshall Neilan, Too.

And speaking of going abroad, Marshall Neilan is leaving May 28 for England, where he is to make at least one picture.

With Mr. Neilan will go a large company of players, including Marshall Neilan, who is taking his own lighting apparatus with him, considering that he will be able to get better effects in this way.

Others Play.

Mannie Loewenstein, author of a number of popular songs, and at present scenarioist at Universal, has turned his pen to play-writing. He has written a play and is sending it to Mrs. Danvers, Ward & Co., and has named it "Cohn, Ward & Co." He will read it before the Playcrafters on Monday night.

Edith Roberts' Stunt.

If John McGroarty, author of "The Great Play," has written his own "Historic California" bound in beautiful but odd fashion, he needn't be surprised. Let him look inside and he will find the name "Edith Roberts." As a matter of fact, Miss Roberts has written a book as a part of the action of her current photoplay, at Universal City, the other day, and on looking inside to see what it was, she found it to be so engrossing she nearly forgot to act. According to the author, she found it to be Mr. McGroarty, and she says she bound the book with extra care, will write her name in it, and make a present of it to the author. And then, of course, if he gives her a free copy of the original, with his name in it, she won't slap him on the wrist.

Cleveland Model Here.

Cleveland Model, well-known woman writer, arrived in town yesterday, having been engaged to collaborate with Albert Smith, of Vitagraph, in the writing of serials.

Basil King Arrives.

Basil King, a member of the English Authors Association, has returned to California to oversee the filming of a number of his stories.

Doubtful Kindness.

When Annette Kellerman was in San Francisco recently for the deep-water scenes of her newest picture, being made under the So. Lester label, one of the sailors on a ship that had just arrived from South America insisted upon presenting the aquatic star with a baby monkey. All went well until Miss Kellerman's pet Airedale got scared of the alien intruder, and in view of the gained diplomatic relationship between canine and simian the star decided to make the hearts of the kiddies of a San Francisco orphan asylum glad by making the monkey the mascot of their institution.

Lila Lee Vacates.

Lila Lee, popular Famous Players-Lasky leading woman, is enjoying an extended rest between pictures.

Meighan to Arrive Soon.

Thomas Meighan seems to be very much in demand these days. No sooner will he have finished "Civilian" than he will be called on to play to be whisked West to appear in the leading role of William de Mille's special Paramount-Artcraft production "Conrad in Quest of His Youth" by Leonard Merrick.

Pretty Old, Inc.

Lee Moran, the Universal funnyman, says he was buying a stick of shaving soap the other day when a young Irishman came into the store. He pointed to a stock of green castle soap and said: "Ol' want a loom of that?"

"Very well, sir," said the clerk.

In the Scintillant Realm of Make-Believe.

Attracting the Play-goers.

Colette Ryan is singing popular numbers at the Orpheum; Anna Q. Nilsson has the leading feminine role in "The Luck of the Irish" at Tally's Broadway, and Dagmar Godowsky is appearing in "The Forged Bride" at the Superba.

VAUDEVILLE HEAD HERE.

Martin Beck to Secure Location for Proposed Theater.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

The construction of a large theater building to house a new line of Orpheum vaudeville attractions which will be presented here at popular prices is the immediate plan of Martin Beck, executive head of the big variety circuit, who arrived here yesterday and is stopping at the Alexandria Hotel. He is now considering several propositions for downtown locations, and will either purchase or lease a site here, as well as outline definite plans for the building of the theater before leaving for the East.

The house will be located in the downtown theater district, probably on Broadway, and will have a capacity of 2,000 persons, according to Mr. Meyerfeld. There will also be a large office building in connection as in the case of the present Orpheum.

The nature of the attractions which are to play at the present Orpheum will not be altered, except inasmuch as there will be a greater number of topline acts. The new vaudeville theater will resemble the old Orpheum in Chicago, and it is very probable that a continuous show will be run.

During the present year the plans of the Orpheum will not change, San Francisco, Kansas City, Milwaukee, and one or two other cities, but that is as far as they extend for this period. Later on the subsidiary circuit may be further enlarged.

In order to carry on the expansion as it will be recalled, there was a reorganization of the Orpheum circuit about the first of the year, whereby the circulation was increased to $10,000,000.

Mr. Beck will have further announcements to make regarding the proposed construction within the next few days, when it is definitely determined where the theater will be.

Early Morning Show.

"The Fortune Hunter" is drawing as well at the Garrick Theater this week, that an extra show will take place at 10 a.m. The picture, which has already played five weeks at the auditorium, will be shown a second week in all probability.

During his sojourn in the East, the composer-pianist will collaborate with Nelle Richmond Eberhart on a new opera, which is to be laid in New England. The details of the plot are at present a secret, but the work is to be in the hands of Mr. Meyerfeld.

Mr. Eberhart will return here in time to complete the score, but will return to New York in the fall and possibly conduct the presentation of his opera "Sayenara," which, with the help of Mr. Meyerfeld, is to sing at the Wilkes Stock Company.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Commodity Deflation in Progress; Oil to Go Higher; Banks Grow.

By CHAPIN HALL.

The financial and business summary issued by the Citizens' National Bank will be out today. The outstanding features of this report, which is compiled from exceptional sources of information, show that the turning point in commodity prices has been reached, and that economic liquidation has set in. Undeniable headway is being made towards building up reserves in staple merchandise.

As we enter this period of deflation, it is pointed out that two forces are working to speed up the period and two forces are working to delay it. On the one side is the high rate of discount maintained by the Federal Reserve Board, and the export of gold as the result of the export of gold. The forces acting against deflation are the agitation for an embargo against gold export, and the plan to reimburse ex-service men and women for the losses which they suffered because of their service in the army and navy.

An analysis of the food and clothing group is made, and the review goes on to the effect that Federal Reserve Board taking a more conservative position than the one advanced in a contemporaneous review recently published by the Farmers' and Merchants' Association of America, board, according to the Citizens' association, is operating on a faith in the American public.

No amount of high discounting is being able to painlessly correct the present inflated credit situation. Only the same self-denial of the borrower, duly expressed, will bring about the result. In certain instances, however, if they do not respond to the reasonable warnings of the Federal Reserve Board, severe corrective measures will be taken. We trust the faith in the directing heads of our great national financial structure have had in the American people will have to be revaluated to meet the new conditions. Their efforts to protect the financial safety which they seem to have now no cognizance of.

Stocks and bonds and the present status of each is discussed with a sane outlook:

The buyer of stocks and the buyer of bonds stand at a point that might be described now as a crossroads. The way through their position in the investors' compass is about the same. The wise buyer of stocks has for some time past been classifying his holdings and separating those of them that will be affected by the general lowering of prices. On the other hand, the bond buyer has been willing to accept the market's farther down, giving him an additional opportunity to participate in a heavy appreciation in wisely-chosen holdings.

The buyer of stocks and the bond buyer are at the point of accumulating for the long pull, the one to tide him over into another period of general rise in prices. Those of them who can hold on to their rallies, the other accumulating a list of bonds at present low levels to tide him in safe keeping while the fall in the return of the purchasing power of the dollar back toward normal.

Present Oil Prices.

Here is the Standard Oil Company's scale of prices under the revised rates. Red Crown gasoline, in cases, 24 cents in bulk, 23 1/2 cents. Pearl oil (kerosene), in cases, 24 cents; in bulk, 13 1/2 cents. Elaine, in cases, 31 1/2 cents; in bulk, 28 cents. Ethyl, in cases, 26 cents; in bulk, 15 1/2 cents. Headlight, in cases, 25 cents; in bulk, 14 1/2 cents.

Accident Insurance. Local insurance actuaries are much concerned in automobile accident statistics. The Southern California is acquiring an enviable reputation as a leader in this form of liability. At large, the death claims are almost exact, creating a critical ratio with the increase in the number of machines. In 1910

The stockholders of the Union Trust of America, Inc., of Pasadena have decided to increase the capital stock of the institution from $425,000 to $1,000,000, and it is the intention to increase the stock in the national bank from $100,000 to $1,000,000, making a total capital of $1,100,000. Each stockholder in the trust company will be entitled to one-half share in the National Bank for each share held in the trust company. This radical increase is made necessary by the phenomenal growth of the Union Bank. It is a matter of interest to those engaged in banking to note how closely the commercial and savings deposits usually grow in parallel lines. For instance, on March 4, 1919, there were 17,068,527.73 for the year, almost a 50 per cent. increase in deposits and illustrates a necessity for the radical increase in capital, as it is considered good banking to maintain at least 50 per cent. of the deposits in capital and surplus. The officers of the Union banks are Frank C. Holt, chairman of the board; H. L. Stuart, president; John Willis Baer, vice-president; C. J. Hall, vice-president and trust officer; W. A. Barnes, cashier; and R. T. Segner, assistant treasurer; H. H. Lehman, assistant cashier.

BY A. P. DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—An ordinance designed to regulate hotel and apartment-house rates was presented to the Public Welfare Committee of the Board of Supervisors today by officials of the Safety Protective Association for the city.The ordinance will be voted on at a meeting of the board to be held today. If adopted, it will be sent to the mayor for his signature.The committee will be canvassed from city to city in the campaign against the formation of new tenement organizations being proposed.Supervisors' committees convened today a hearing started a day earlier to determine what part they could take in the effort to stop the new organizations. Representatives of
